Coolidge Ladies of Academic Success and Service

The Ladies of C.L.A.S.S. have kicked off yet another exciting year! Each year both the mentors and the mentees are dedicated to having a promising year filled with sisterhood, exposure to new life experiences, growth, and success. In an effort to better serve our mentees, the mentors have committed to participating in some team building as well. The pictures reflect our mentor outing to Time Quest Escape Room. This bonding experience will help us to be seamless examples for our students. The ladies of C.L.A.S.S. participated in a team building activity called the "Human Knot." In addition to encouraging teamwork, this activity promoted critical thinking, effective communication, and strategy. The Mentors encouraged the ladies from the sideline to think through a plan to successfully "untie" the Knot. The ladies overcame the obstacles and challenges and were able to successfully complete the task. These team building activities are symbolic of what we are striving to have the ladies of C.L.A.S.S. accomplish throughout their lifetime. We are looking forward to this year and are determined to uphold the principles of academic success and service!

Dear Dr. Hill,

Providence Bank & Trust is pleased to offer South Holland School District #151 tickets to this year's Chicago Football Classic! The game will be held on Saturday, September 14, 2019 at Soldier Field. Kickoff is at 3:30 featuring Hampton University vs Howard University.

Being actively involved in the growth and support of the communities we serve is important to us. We give back through The Providence Bank & Trust Stewardship Program and give thanks for all the relationships we have and will continue to establish in our communities.

We hope the students selected this year enjoy the game!

Service, Stewardship and Security

For 22 years the Chicago Football Classic has been a way to support Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs). The Classic not only provides scholarships to many students, it allows brings awareness to the Colleges and Universities. It promotes education and highlights the arts, and sports. In the past, there were 160 HBCUs now there are only 105. The Chicago Football Classic sponsors provide transportation, food, and lodging for the student athletes, band members, and dancers.

In addition to the game and battle of the bands, there is an HBCU College Fair taking place at Soldier Field.

High School students get an opportunity not only to apply but to receive a scholarship.

Thank you Providence Bank in South Holland for your donation of tickets to our Band Program.

"The Chicago Football Classic is more than just a game. It's educational, it's about employment," said Rand, who along with brother Tim Rand and Larry Huggins saw the need for such an event locally and created it. "We want to make sure that our kids get a chance to not only hold the ladder of success for others to climb, but to climb it themselves. That's the whole purpose of the game."
